

POSITIONS AND ADAPTATIONS FOR BATHING

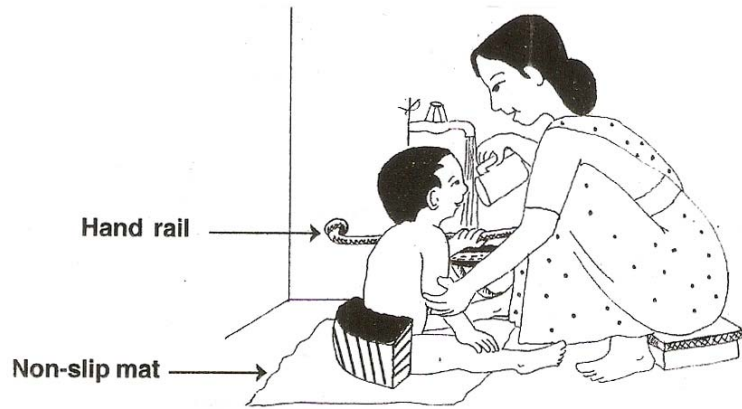

Reference: Awareness-Cum-Training Packages In Disability, Training In Daily Living Skills And Managing Difficult Behaviours. Unit-5, IGNOU School Of Continuing Education

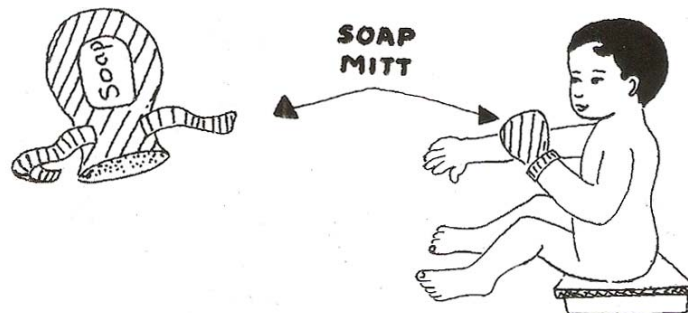

A long-handled brush makes it easier to clean the back

The baby is lying on a non-slip mat placed inside this tub. The mother is easily able to clean the child's body parts.

Hand rails provide support for the child while being bathed. He can participate in the process using the other hand which is free.

A soap mitt makes it easier to hold the soap and also helps in cleaning the body